Forecast of Congress.

Probable Program of Both Houses.

MR. BLAIR'S EDUCATIONAL BILL.

It Will Likely Be Disposed of During the Present Week—Election Contests to Be Considered in the House—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The senate will likely resume consideration of Blair's educational bill to-day. Mr. Blair will push it to a vote as soon as possible. He has acquiesced in the various postponements, it is understood, because he found it necessary to obtain reinforcements for the bill which would in all likelihood have been defeated if a vote had been taken upon it a week ago. Mr. Blair believes that the bill will pass the senate. It remains the unfinished business to be taken up every day at 2 o'clock until disposed of.

Senator Hale has given notice that when the Blair bill is disposed of he will ask the senate to take up his bill for the increase of the naval establishment and Mr. Sherman has given notice that he will urge the further consideration of his bill to prevent trusts. There is sure to be antagonism between various pending measures when the Blair bill is out of the way.

The dependent pension bill which was discussed Friday has lost its position and can be taken up only by a vote of the senate during the morning hour. It may be considered further during the week. Mr. Frye has given notice that he will call up the Pacific railroad funding bill Tuesday and demands its consideration at the time. It is not likely that the floor will be yielded to him as the measure in which he is so much interested, will have to be debated at great length before it can be disposed of. Mr. Frye will probably have to give notice of some other day when he will call the bill up and to ask that it be made a special order for that day.

The probabilities are favorable to a rather uninteresting week in the house. Monday will be individual suspension day, which is set apart for the recognition of members who have bills they desire to have pass without lengthy consideration. An effort may be made by the representatives, however, to bring up the Featherstone-Fate Arkansas contested election case, but should this be done it is by no means certain that the effort will be successful. Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to consideration and passage of public building bills, and on Thursday the committee on appropriations will probably call up the pension appropriation bill. Friday will be private bill day, and for Saturday no program has been talked about.

Saturday's House Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, March 3.—After the passage of a few private pension bills in the house Saturday Mr. Cutcherson, of Michigan, called up the senate bill providing for an assistant secretary of war, and it was passed—yeas, 126; nays, 100. Mr. Gest, of Illinois, introduced a bill to pension disabled soldiers who are without proof of the origin of their disability.

A bill extending twelve months the time in which French spoliation claims may be filed was introduced by Mr. Milliken, of Maine.

Mr. Houk, of Tennessee, called up the contested election case of Featherstone vs. Cate, from the First district of Arkansas. Mr. Crisp raised the question of consideration. The house decided—yeas, 133; nays, 122—to consider the election case.

The opening speech in favor of the claims of the contestant was made by Mr. Haugen, of Wisconsin. At the conclusion of Mr. Haugen's speech Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, took the floor, but in view of the small attendance of members moved an adjournment, which motion was agreed to. Yeas, 114; nays, 107.

The Public Debt Reduction.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The monthly public debt statement, just issued from the treasury department, shows a decrease in the debt during the past month amounting to $6,159,486, and for the seven months of the current fiscal year, $42,099,091. The treasury to-day holds $32,756,581 net cash, or about $1,000,000 more than a month ago. National bank deposits to-day hold $33,178,304 of government funds, a decrease of nearly $5,000,000 during the past month.

The gold fund balance has increased about ten millions and a half during the past month, and now amounts to $157,988,348, and the silver fund balance—exclusive of three millions trade dollar bullion—is $18,481,778, or about one million more than on Feb. 1, a month ago.

Government receipts during February past were $30,860,218, against $30,133,159 during February, 1889. Pension payments for the past eight months amounted to $77,116,483, against $73,188,897 for the eight months of the preceding fiscal year.

Guarding the Senate's Secrets.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Another important step toward the entire concealment of the mass of the secret sessions of the senate was taken Saturday. A number of workmen were employed through a great part of the day carefully "painting up" the walls immediately surrounding the doors of the senate galleries. With the cracks on the senate walls carefully closed up, the double doors securely fastened, the gallery floor cleared of all but the watchmen, the watchmen sitting ten feet from the doors, it is safe to say that no secret news will leak out through the galleries of the senate.

Ex-Congressman Taulbee Recovering.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Ex-Congressman Taulbee is reported in a fair way to recovery. The bullet fired by Kincaid, and which struck Taulbee near the outer edge of the left eye and passed downward two inches, is not, the physicians think, doing any harm. It has not been removed. Kincaid was brought to the police court Saturday afternoon and set at liberty under $3,000 bail.

BEN BUTLER'S DROOPING EYE.

It Has Been Treated by a Surgeon and Is Now a Thing of the Past.

BOSTON, March 3.—One of the notable institutions of the United States has disappeared. Ben Butler's drooping eyelid, so familiar to the present generation and part of the past, is no more. A surgeon has been at work on his famous left ocular, and the result is he will be able to see as well as the man with the best eye in the world.

The cutting was done with surgeons' scissors and not with a knife. The surgeon caught up between his thumb and forefinger a fold of flesh midway between the eye-lash and the eye-brow, and clipped it off with the scissors. A big hole was consequently left in the lid, for the piece of flesh taken away was about one and a half inches long and one inch wide.

Having cut away the fold, the surgeon then brought the bleeding edges together and secured them with half a dozen stitches. The effect is obvious. The lower portion of the lid was drawn upward, where the overhanging fold used to be, thus exposing the eyeball to the light. Of course, the operation was unpleasant to the general, but the whole thing was over in fifteen minutes, and Gen. Butler had a bandaged left eye, but one that he would be able to see out of in a few days. The wound healed rapidly.

The operation was performed Monday, and on Thursday some of the stitches were removed. On Friday the surgeon took out the remnants of the suture, and the two edges of the wound were united. On the following Monday the lid felt so comfortable that the general ventured to go out and attend to business, but the weather was not propitious and, by his doctor's advice, he decided to remain at home until Thursday, Feb. 27.

As soon as the news of the operation was noised abroad, the general began to hear from his friends and others, too. In twenty-four hours his mail was filled with strange letters. Many of them were expressions of sympathy and congratulation from friends, but the greater part was composed of circulars setting forth the merit of quack medicines and of valuable advice from self-constituted oculists in various parts of Massachusetts. The general's right eye, too, has been developing of late years a drooping lid on a miniature scale. It is now veiled more than the left eye is, and it will probably be made the object of another operation in the near future.

AN EASTERN BLIZZARD.

Business in New York City Nearly Paralyzed by a Snow Storm.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The heaviest snow fall of the season, accompanied by a high wind, has prevailed here since nightfall yesterday, and at the present time there is no sign of abatement. A large number of serious accidents resulting from falls on the sidewalks are reported from the various police stations and hospitals. The snow has pretty effectually blocked the street cars and even elevated trains are exposed to the fury of the storm and suffer severely. The ferryboats are compelled to proceed with great care. About ten inches of snow on the level has already fallen.

The signal office here reports that New York is experiencing the tail end of a blizzard which is howling off the coast to the north and east and that there is very little snow south of here. The cold wave, however, extends as far south as Florida.

Raging in Boston.

BOSTON, March 3.—A heavy storm has been raging here since about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. About eight inches of snow have fallen up to this hour. Advice from points on Cape Cod, Newport, Portsmouth, N. H.; New Bedford, Mass.; New Haven, Conn., and other places report the worst storm of the season.

First Snow for Many Years.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 1.—A light snow fell here Sunday morning. The first snow fall for many years. Ice formed last night and vegetation generally is blighted. The damage to truck garden crops cannot as yet be estimated but it is very large.

Cold Weather for Florida.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 3.—The thermometer last night registered 32 degrees above zero, the lowest point reached this season. Great damage has been done to truck farms by frost and fears are entertained for the orange crop.

Scenery Spoiled.

CHILLICOTHE, O., March 2.—The Clough Grand opera house, of this city, which was recently remodeled and equipped with the largest and finest lot of scenery owned by any theater in this part of Ohio, was almost completely gutted by fire Sunday morning, entailing a loss of from $4,000 to $6,000 upon its owner, Dr. G. W. A. Clough.

Fatal Cutting Affray.

COLUMBUS, O., March 3.—Owen O'Shane and S. W. Hetenhouse quarreled at noon yesterday at a Rich street boarding house, when O'Shane whipped out a long knife and fatally cut Hetenhouse in the lung. The victim will not recover. O'Shane was arrested and is in prison, claiming he committed the act in self-defense.

Mine Fire Beyond Control.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 3.—The fire in the Cameron mine is beyond control. It will take a week to accomplish the work of boring from the level above the fire, walling up the slopes and flooding the mine necessary to extinguish the fire, and it is feared that meanwhile the flames may eat their way into other chambers.

Ex-Congressman Shot.

Attempted Assassination in the Capitol.

THE VICTIM WAS W. T. TAULBEE.

He Pulls the Nose of Charles E. Kincaid, a Newspaper Correspondent, and Receives a Bullet in His Head as a Reward.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Charles E. Kincaid, correspondent of The Louisville Times, shot Representative Taulbee, of Kentucky, through the head shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Taulbee had pulled Kincaid's nose on account of a paragraph published in The Times. It is reported that Mr. Taulbee may die. The shooting occurred at the west door of the capitol.

It was W. P. Taulbee, who represented a Kentucky district in the house during the forty-ninth and fiftieth Congress, who was the victim. The house was engaged in its deliberations when Kincaid's pistol shot reverberated through the corridors of the capitol.

The hour was about 1:40. A minute later the house was almost empty and a great crowd of excited employees and others were hurrying through the corridors towards the scene of the shooting. Taulbee was shot while coming down one of the stairways that lead to the basement of the house wing of the capitol. He was accompanied by ex-Doorkeeper Sam Donaldson. Kincaid came down the steps behind the pair and in a hurried manner touched Taulbee on the shoulder.

The ex-congressman wheeled sharply around, and Kincaid, raising his weapon, one of small caliber, pulled the trigger. Taulbee fell back against the wall, the blood streaming from a wound directly below his left eye. Taulbee did not appear to be badly injured. He walked in an uncertain manner down the steps, and then was assisted to the janitor's office. A great pool of blood marked the spot in the threshold of the doorway to this room, where Taulbee had halted for a moment.

The room was too small to allow proper attention to be administered to him, and he was taken to the room of the committee on public buildings and grounds just around the corner of the corridor, where medical attendance was given by Representative Yoder, of Ohio, who is a physician, and Dr. Clarence Adams, of this city.

Kincaid, meanwhile, had not endeavored to get away. He leaned against the wall of the staircase utterly weakened, and he walked quietly away with the capitol policeman who arrested him.

"I'm the man that did it," he said to the policeman in an aimless manner. He was taken to the capitol guard room and later to a police station.

A United Press reporter spoke to Kincaid as he was being led from the court room to the cell that conveyed him to the station. He seemed utterly helpless, and in answer to an inquiry if he had anything to say, replied: "Not now; I'm too weak. I've just been through an attack of typhoid." Here he halted and cried, "Catch me; I feel faint." He acted like a man who had lost control of his nerves. Taulbee was taken to his boarding house on Capitol Hill, about an hour after the shooting. Dr. Adams said that he could not tell how serious the wound was, but he thought that Taulbee would recover.

The trouble grew out of a publication in The Louisville Times of a scandalous story about Taulbee, which resulted, it is said, in the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Taulbee.

Since the publication of that story a year ago, Kincaid and Taulbee had not met until a short time after noon yesterday, when Taulbee accosted Kincaid near the front lobby door of the house, called him a liar and pulled his nose. Kincaid, who is just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever, told Taulbee that he was unable to cope with him physically and that he was unarmed. Taulbee then went away. Later Kincaid armed himself and hunted Taulbee up.

Later a reporter of The United Press saw Kincaid in his cell and had a brief conversation with him. Kincaid said that Taulbee had been hounding him for a long time and threatening his life. He had been told by a great many newspaper correspondents that Taulbee had said that he was "not fit to live," that he was a coward, and that he would better keep an eye on him (Taulbee).

"When he came up to me this morning," said Kincaid, "he insulted me and said that I was a coward, and that I would not resent his insults. I told him to leave me alone or he would find out what I would do. Later he insulted me again, and I shot him."

SOCIALISTS IN COUNCIL.

Lively Meeting in Cooper Institute, New York—Resolutions.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The large hall of Cooper institute was filled Friday evening with Socialists, Anarchists, a number of Russian exiles and others, who met to denounce the czar and the Russian government for the flogging and murder of the Siberian exiles. Mr. Stoletchnikov, a Russian, presided, and on taking the chair made a brief address in Russian.

For ten or twelve years, he said, news had come of repeated outrages upon the exiles in Siberia. In the early period of Christian history and in the middle ages martyrs suffered torture and death from pagans and the inquisition, but such a crime as whipping a woman to death was unheard of.

The Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost was then introduced. His address savored of blood thirstiness. He wanted blood for blood. He was pleased to see that the last outrage had raised a feeling of horror in the breast of every American. It was a disgrace to the whole human race that a man like the czar should be allowed to live. At these words the audience burst into applause.

When it had subsided Mr. Pentecost continued that the man on the throne of Russia was a disgrace to human nature. He alone was responsible for the outrage in Siberia. George Kennan, who knew more about Siberia than others, stated that the czar was alone responsible for the flogging of the lady. The following resolutions were adopted:

The nameless, blood curdling outrages perpetrated by the servants and officials of the Czar of Russia on the persons of men and women in Siberia, whose only crime was to love liberty with their hearts and souls, have sent a thrill of horror through all the civilized world. If our civilization, if humanity itself is not a miserable sham, we hold it to be the sacred duty of every nation in whose hearts the love of liberty still lives, not only to protest against such outrages, but to take such steps as may effectually prevent their repetition; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we, citizens of New York and vicinity, in mass meeting assembled, do hereby express our loathing and detestation of a government capable of committing such crimes as those perpetrated by the czar's minions in the Siberian dungeons.

That we reverence the victims of these crimes as the noblest and the most exalted champions of the cause of liberty and humanity.

That we hold it to be the duty of the United States government, in the name of the people of the country whose fathers have fought and bled for liberty, to enter a solemn protest before the throne of the czar against the perpetration of such unspeakable horrors.

That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the secretary of state at Washington.

PERSISTENT LOTTERY SCHEMERS.

They Have Not Given Up Hope of Capturing North Dakota.

BISMARCK, N. Dak., March 3.—The action of lottery people here indicates very strongly that they are planning some scheme, and the rumor of a new bill is repeated with greater persistence than ever. It is probable that a canvass is being made to find out whether there is strength enough obtainable to carry the bill through.

If the bill is introduced, it will most likely be during the last week of the session. The most credible theory explaining the plans of the lottery advocates is that after the bill is introduced they will block all legislation, which they can easily do on account of their large majority. Then they will seek to gain votes enough to pass the bill over the governor's veto by making combinations with members who are anxious to get their pet measures through.

So far, however, there are no signs of weakening on the part of the eleven senators who are pledged against the bill. The anti-lottery members of the house are also bestirring themselves, and fifteen have already signed a pledge to vote against the bill, and they claim nine more—this will leave only thirty-eight votes for the bill, and forty-two are necessary.

Two Men Burned to Death.

JOHNSONBURG, Pa., March 3.—Martin O'Malley and Peter Faley were burned to death here last night about 2 o'clock. O'Malley, who was a laborer, did odd jobs about town. He lived in a little shanty which was located near the railroad. The two men mentioned and a third party, name unknown, were on a spree last night. O'Malley and Faley repaired to the shanty about 9 o'clock in the evening and retired. During the night one of the men while yet under the influence of liquor must have turned on more gas. The overpressure set fire to the building and burned it to the ground, together with occupants.

BANK ROBBED OF $4,000.

A Cool Stranger Ransacks a Kansas Institution and Escapes.

VALLEY FALLS, Kan., March 3.—A bold robbery occurred here Saturday evening. A masked man entered the Hicks & Gephart bank about 5 o'clock, and "held up" the cashier with two revolvers and robbed the bank. President Gephart is a Kent. The robber escaped, though the town turned out five minutes after the robbery in hot pursuit.

Another dispatch says the bank robbery committed here was accomplished in a daring manner, $4,000 in cash being secured. At 5 o'clock a stranger entered the bank and presented for payment a check. He was dressed like a farmer, and had his face bound up in flannel. Before the cashier had handed him his money he asked permission to go behind the railing where there was a stove, as he had a severe toothache, and thought the heat might mitigate it.

The cashier granted the request, and the stranger passed behind the railing. Once there, he took from his pocket a revolver, and covering Mr. Cohn with it, directed him to leave the building. Mr. Cohn left. The robber then locked the door, secured the booty and escaped, though closely pursued by citizens, to whom the cashier had given the alarm.

The Robber Killed.

MERIDIAN, Kan., March 3.—A man answering the description of the robber who stole $4,000 from Hicks & Gephart's bank at Valley Falls, Kan., Saturday, registered at a hotel here Saturday night. When two police officers, who had been notified of the arrival of the stranger, went to the hotel to arrest him, he resisted and was fired upon by both officers and instantly killed, one bullet passing through the heart and another through the right lung. The stolen money was found on the outlaw's person and he was positively identified as one Robertson. A coroner's jury exonerated the officers for having caused the death of the bank robber.

Hundreds of Cattle Frozen to Death.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.—Reports from northern Texas say that hundreds of range cattle have been frozen to death during the present cold spell, and that unless the weather speedily moderates the loss of stock will be very serious.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, MARCH 3, 1890.

A PROTECTION organ says that the abolition of the duty on sugar "will not only reduce the revenue, but cheapen the sugar consumed by the people." So the tariff is a tax and a tax paid by the consumer! An inadvertent admission, but the palpable truth, remarks an exchange.

If "overspeculation is the mother of financial disaster," there's trouble ahead for some of the boom towns of Kentucky. The Louisville Times truthfully declares that the State is rich enough in natural resources to develop without such crazes as made a howling wilderness of Wichita. The Times tersely adds:

"Push every railroad, open every mine, build every oven, erect every blast furnace, dig every well possible, but do not boom town lots to the pitch that the collapse that is sure to follow wild speculation will retard permanent improvement a decade."

If a certain bill pending in the Legislature is passed it will save the State about $40,000 a year. The measure referred to is the Wortham bill to repeal the law by which County Clerks are required to copy the State Assessor's lists at a compensation of 4 cents per line. This work costs the State $40,000 per year, and the committee to which the bill was referred say the outlay is almost as useless as though the money were dumped into a sewer. These copies are forwarded to the Auditor, who uses only the footings in settling with the Assessors and the Sheriffs. It is claimed that "a recapitulation of the Assessor's work would serve the purpose better, and would not cost the State a hundredth part of what is now paid out upon this score."

A Good Law.

Farmers are complaining of the killing of sheep by dogs, and this reminds me, why does not our legislature, for Mason County at least, pass a dog law, something like the Ohio dog law? It would meet with almost universal acceptance here, would protect the farmer, and encourage sheep-raising. In Ohio every dog is taxed. The dog tax goes into the hands of a Commissioner. Whenever a sheep is killed by dogs the owner goes before the Commissioner, proves his loss, and out of the dog tax fund is paid the value of the sheep killed or injured by dogs. The surplus fund is every year turned over to the County School Commissioner for the benefit of the common schools of the county. I am told that in Brown County, O., after paying for the damages to sheep there is every year quite a handsome sum secured for the benefit of the school fund from the dog tax.

The above is from the Washington correspondent of the Democrat. The BULLETIN has referred to the law spoken of on several occasions in the past. It is an excellent law, and there should be one like it in this State. Mason County's Representative and Senator should interest themselves in this matter.

New York World Tariff Pins.

Would it be such a horrible outrage on the rights of capital if the mill-owners should be compelled by natural competition with the farmer to sell to their American countrymen at the same price they sell to foreign buyers?

Why does the American manufacturer need protection in his "home market" when he does not need any protection in foreign market? Our protected mills export their products to foreign countries and sell their products in foreign countries, in open competition with foreign manufacturers and under their very noses. They do this and "pay the freight," but demand "protection" when they sell in the home market to their countrymen. Protection from whom and what? From the American farmer, of course, and from the foreign products he receives in payment for his surplus.

How can the farmer dispose of his surplus except by exchanging it for foreign manufactures to be used by his countrymen? Congress can and does prevent that exchange, but on whom will and does the loss fall? Is it more profitable for the farmer to burn his surplus corn, as he is now doing, than to sell it abroad for sugar at four cents a pound? How can we pay for any foreign product except in our own products? Do we get anything from abroad except in exchange for something we made with less labor than we could make the foreign thing? Do we trade except at a profit? "Does anybody? Is the American nation composed of fools who must be restrained by law from exchanging gold eagles for brass farthings?"

Soiree Musicale.

The ladies of the Christian Church will give a soiree musicale next Monday evening at the residence of Mr. A. Finch. Admission twenty-five cents—refreshments included. mld2t

The Western Recorder, a Baptist paper, dips into politics a little in the following. It says: "Mrs. Calvin Philles died recently in Kansas. Before her marriage she was Miss Crandall and had a boarding school for girls. She admitted a colored girl to her school, and this so angered her patrons that they not only stopped their patronage, but they went to burn her house down. This happened, not in Mississippi nor South Carolina, but in Connecticut. It is fair to add that it was half a century ago. But it was only last year that a reputable colored preacher could not get shaved at any barber-shop in Elmira, N. Y., because of his color."

Pithy Points From Washington.

Whisky is the devil's stamp.
Whisky, thy name is horror!
Whisky's fumes are the devil's breath.
Rum, thou art the synonym of hell!
Liquor's traffic is confusion to all other traffic.
Whisky astride a man rides him to perdition.
Liquor at the helm makes a wreck of the stoutest craft.
Rum as helmsman steers only for the harbor of confusion and disaster.
Whisky and saloons attract the vicious and villianous, just so surely as molasses attract flies.
The stamp of whisky upon a man is like the word "counterfeit" upon the face of a bank-note.

From Sunday morning until Saturday night our sons are at the mercy of the merciless rum traffic.

A man entangled in rum's meshes is the devil's property, without a miracle intervenes in his behalf.

The liquor traffic sends forth ready-made the prize-fighter, the bully, the ruffian and the criminal.

The rum traffic furnishes at all times the gambler, the cock-fighter, the wife-beater and the murderer.

THE Cincinnati papers gave the details yesterday of a brutal assault on Sadie McNicholson or Sadie Nicholson committed Saturday by "Kid" Martin, a worthless character of that city with whom she had formerly lived. The Commercial-Gazette says the woman is from Maysville, and is the daughter of a minister. No such party is known here, as far as the BULLETIN can learn.

SLICKAWAY BURNED.

A Noted Church Destroyed by Fire Early This Morning.

There will hardly be any "bonnet-show" at Slickaway the third Sunday of May this year.

The church building was discovered on fire at an early hour this morning, and was burned to the ground in a short time. The flames had gained such headway when first seen that the people living in the vicinity could do little or nothing to save the structure.

The building was a frame, and cost about $2,000. It was erected some eight or ten years ago on the site of the old church which was destroyed by a storm. It is not known whether there was any insurance.

The origin of the fire was not learned. Services were held in the church last night.

The church was located on Three Mile Creek, about two miles back of Aberdeen. The annual meeting held there on the third Sunday in May has been known as the "bonnet-show" for years. This "bonnet-show" always attracted big crowds from the surrounding country and made the church a rather noted one in this section.

Headlight Flashes.

An exchange says the C. and O. recently gave orders for 10,000 new Kanawha Dispatch box cars.

The Kentucky Union met with a heavy loss by the flood last week. Its bridge over the Kentucky River at Three Forks was washed away.

The earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio Road for the third week of February show an increase of $35,115.25 over those for the corresponding week of last year. The figures are: 1890, $141,529.97; 1889, $106,414.72. Increase, $35,115.25.

President Mackey, of the Monon, is pronounced the "closest" railroad President in the country. It is said he saves every piece of old iron he finds. He lately issued an order to all clerks and other employees requiring them to commence work promptly at 7 o'clock. He told them that 7 o'clock didn't mean 7:05 or 7:10.

Donald Macdonald has assumed the duties of Chief Train-dispatcher of the Huntington Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Road, with headquarters at Huntington, W. Va. He succeeds G. H. Groce, who resigned to take service with the Central Railroad of Georgia. Mr. Macdonald was formerly Chief Clerk to J. T. Harahan, late General Manager of the C. and O. Road.

In the Legislature Saturday Senator Poyntz asked leave to bring in a bill incorporating the Kentucky and Southeastern Railway Company. The incorporators are Charles E. Hoge, Wm. Lindsay, W. F. Dandridge, D. W. Lindsay, H. P. Mason and Wm. J. Hendrick. The projected line is from a point connecting with the Chesapeake and Ohio between Covington and Maysville to a point at the intersection of the Kentucky Midland with the Elizabethtown and Big Sandy, through the counties of Bracken, Mason, Fleming, Rowan, Bath, Morgan, Magoffin, Floyd, Pike, Menifee, Johnson, Martin and Knott to the Virginia line. The bill contains a taxing clause.

Mr. Kane, day operator and ticket-seller at the C. & O. depot, has been transferred to the Train Dispatcher's office at Cincinnati and Mr. Hugh Foley, from South Ripley, succeeds him here. Also Mr. Mendenhall, night operator, has left the C. & O. Road and is succeeded here by Mr. John Schnelle, of Maysville. A good many of the Maysville people will recollect Mr. Foley as the accommodating night operator who worked here a short while last spring. The public can rest assured that an accommodating and efficient service will be rendered at the hands of Mr. Foley, who will gladly give such information concerning trains and tickets as may be requested of him.

Hopper & Murphy's Diamond Eardrops.

The drawing for the $500 diamond eardrops given away by Hopper & Murphy, the jewelers, took place at their store Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in the presence of a large crowd. The tickets were placed in a box and thoroughly shaken up and mixed. A little son of Mr. J. B. Orr was then placed upon a chair and drew one ticket from the box, the diamonds going to the holder of this ticket. It was No. 7,634. Miss Anna Bona, daughter of Mr. A. Bona the confectioner, got the gems. She presented the ticket this morning and received the diamonds.

Here and There.

Mrs. W. H. Cox is visiting Miss Timberlake, at Winchester.

Mr. Wm. Reeves, of Ironton, was in town yesterday, greeting his old friends.

Hon. Green R. Keller, Clerk of the House of Representatives, came in from Frankfort Saturday morning on a brief visit to his relative, Dr. J. H. Holton, who is confined to his room by an attack of rheumatism.

Fifty-eight loads of tobacco were delivered at Millersburg in six days recently.

The peach tree is easy to plant, easy to remove if it proves worthless, and of great value when a success.

During the sales of trotters in Kentucky last month 930 horses passed under the hammer for a total of $632,320, an average of $679. In the entire year of 1888 in this State 1,304 trotting horses sold at auction only realized $473,557, which is $158,763 less than was realized by the sales held in Kentucky during the month just ended. At the recent offerings fourteen horses sold for $5,000 and over.

Sheep-growing has been largely driven out of the original wool-growing States into the cheap lands of the Territories and new States. While there are about twenty-eight million more people in the country in 1890 than there were in 1870, there are fourteen million more sheep—not enough sheep to go round. In the last years there has been a falling off of 8,000,000 in the whole number of sheep in the whole country—a loss of about 16 per cent. Protected wool-growing doesn't pay. It can't be made to pay. The country needs free wool.—Exchange.

County Court Doings.

R. T. Watson qualified as guardian of John T. Tuel, Mary Alice Tuel and Jennie L. Tuel, with Alex Watson and J. W. Clary surties.

A writing purporting to be the will of James Curtis was filed, but on due consideration the court ordered that same be rejected as not being the will of said deceased.

James A. Curtis was appointed administrator of James Curtis, and executed bond with James E. Cahill surety. J. H. Rice, J. M. Alexander and James E. Cahill were appointed appraisers.

Thomas Guilfoyle was granted license to retail spirituous, vinous and malt liquors.

Edward Walton applied for license to retail spirituous, vinous and malt liquors at "Niland's old stand" on the Germantown pike in the West End. J. C. Miller and others filed a protest and the license was refused.

The Death of Mr. Peter Malloy.

The death of Mr. Peter Malloy occurred at his home near Germantown yesterday after an illness of several days from pneumonia. The funeral will be tomorrow (Tuesday) at 9 o'clock. The remains will be interred at Washington.

The deceased was 69 years old, and had been a resident of the Germantown neighborhood for fifty years. He was widely known as a man of sterling integrity and honor. He leaves a handsome fortune to his children, of whom there are eight, among them Dr. Pat Malloy, of Lexington, and Dr. John Malloy, of Covington.

The wife of the deceased died a few weeks ago.

Big Slip in the Connecting Track.

A big land slide occurred this morning at 9 o'clock in the track connecting the C. and O. and K. C. at this place. The big flood in the river the past week sent the back-water up to within eight or ten feet of the top of the fill, thoroughly soaking the earth, and causing the break this morning. The triangular basin behind the break is filled with water and it is feared the pressure from this will wash out a big part of the connecting track as soon as the back-water goes down.

The break has rendered the track impassable, and until further notice the C. and O. will receive and discharge freight at Cooper's warehouse on Front street.

New Time Table.

The C. and O.'s new schedule went into effect yesterday. The Maysville accommodation leaves here at 5:45 a. m. and arrives at 7:35 in the evening.

The Russell accommodation, west-bound, passes here at 8:43 a. m. and the eastbound at 4:37 p. m.

There were two additions to the First Baptist Church yesterday.

There were seven additions to the M. E. Church yesterday, making fourteen since the revival commenced and seventeen in the past five or six weeks. The meeting will be continued this week. Preaching this evening at 7:30 by the pastor, Rev. Thomas Hanford. All are invited.

ONE OF RUSSIA'S MISTAKES.

Her Calling on Bulgaria for an Indemnity May Lead to Serious Trouble—Minister Lincoln's Son Growing Worse. Other Cable News.

LONDON, March 3.—The Russian government now recognizes its mistake in making a demand for indemnity upon Bulgaria in reply to the request of that principality for recognition of its independence. This is one of the swords which Russia has held over Bulgaria since the empire's troops were dominant in Bulgaria, ostensibly engaged in restoring order, but really extending to remain there permanently if the slightest pretext could be found for such action.

It was, of course, presumed that Bulgaria was unable to pay even a considerable portion of the sum demanded, hence the peremptory tone of Russian requisition and to the astonishment of the Czar government, Bulgaria has intimated her perfect willingness to pay, much to Russia's disgust and to the disappointment and regret of the many Russian agents whose recent machinations on the Balkan states have all been in the direction of precipitating a Russian invasion of Bulgaria as the result of her failure to comply with Russian demands.

Germany's Rebellions.

BERLIN, March 3.—The result of the vote in seventeen of the districts in which rebellions were necessary to elect members of the reichstag shows that the Socialists have gained six seats and the Liberals five. Complete returns from fifty-five rebellions show the election of seventeen members of the Reichstag, fourteen Socialists, two Centrists, and five of various opposition parties.

Some of Them Saved.

LONDON, March 3.—A dispatch just received here from Brisbane says the steamship Quetta, which recently foundered at sea on her voyage from Cooktown, Queensland, for London, had on board 280 persons. Of these 116 were saved, including the captain and several other officers of the ship.

Serpa Pinto May Come to Washington. LISBON, March 3.—The government has offered Maj. Serpa Pinto a diplomatic post, it is believed at Washington, on condition that he refrains from going to Lisbon, where his presence is believed to be fraught with danger, not only to the ministry but possibly even to the dynasty itself.

Eiffel to Build Another Tower.

A Boulangist Elected.

PARIS, March 3.—M. Naquet, Boulangist, was elected to the chamber of deputies for the Pantheon division of the Seine, yesterday.

Preaching Under Difficulties.

DANVILLE, Ill., March 3.—Rev. Parker Shields, a young Evangelist, engaged in revival work at Metcalf, a village twenty-five miles southwest of this city has aroused the dislike of many of the people there. He has been insulted on the street and has received letters threatening him with a coat of tar and feathers if he did not leave the place. He is now holding meetings guarded by a number of armed disciples, whom he called to his assistance and declares that he will not be driven away.

Fire From Electric Wires.

BY THE SINKING OF A STEAMER.

An Obstruction Not on the Chart Causes the Loss of a British Vessel—She Strikes a Rock and Goes Down in Three Minutes—Description of the Lost Steamer.

LONDON, March 3.—A dispatch received here states that the British steamer Quetta, which sailed from Australian ports Feb. 27, for London, has been lost at sea. The Quetta was a vessel of 2,354 tons burden. She had twenty-seven first class passengers and a crew numbering 112. She also had mails for England.

The managers of the line to which the steamer belonged say they do not believe the report that she has been lost.

The report of the loss of the steamer is confirmed at Lloyd's. The advice received there state that 200 lives were lost. The steamer struck a rock not shown on the chart at 6 o'clock at night near Sumneret, in the Torres Straits, at the northern extremity of Australia, and sunk in three minutes.

Description of the Lost Vessel.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The steamer Quetta, which struck a rock and sank in the Torres Strait, belonged to the British Indian Associated Steamers company, of Glasgow, which controls a large number of passenger steamers plying between English, Australian and Indian ports. She arrived at Brisbane from London Feb. 5, and thence proceeded to Cooktown, whence she sailed for London Feb. 27. She was 2,354 tons net; had six bulkhead compartments; was 380 feet long by 40 wide and had a high rating with Lloyd's. The hull was built at Dumbarton in 1881 by the Denny Brothers.

General Alger Says Congress Will Not Enact the Measure.

COLUMBUS, O., March 3.—Gen. Russell A. Alger, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, passed through Saturday morning, and in response to inquiries by a delegation of G. A. R. men, who met him at the Union station, said: "I have made inquiries while in Washington in regard to the passage of a service pension bill, and I learned beyond all question that such a bill cannot be passed. The east, as well as the south, will oppose it, and the pension committee of the G. A. R., after having spent much time and earnest efforts in favor of it, say it cannot pass. I am satisfied, however, that a dependent pension bill will pass within the next two weeks. It is better that those who are sick and helpless shall receive help than that all should fail, and that will be the result if only a pension service pushed."

TWO FIGHTS IN SALOONS.

Beer Glasses Are the Weapons Used in Both Cases.

COLUMBUS, O., March 3.—During the last twenty-four hours there seems to have been a penchant for doing bloody work with the ugly beer glass. Saturday night Joseph Powell, a painter, was probably fatally injured in Hertz's saloon by a beer glass in the hands of Al J. Keefe.

Last night the incident was repeated, the scene being changed to Collins' saloon on Town street. "Shorty" Perkins, a printer, and B. F. Redd, were playing cards in the above saloon. They were intoxicated and quarreled. Redd belted Perkins a terrific blow over the head with a schooner recently emptied, cutting his head open and causing injuries which are very serious.

Burying the Arizona Disaster Victims.

PRESCOTT, A. T., March 3.—The work of burying the victims of the late disaster at Walnut grove dam is about completed. Thirty-nine bodies were recovered and identified, while ten more persons are known to have been lost. Property at and below Wickenburg was badly damaged, but no loss of life occurred, as was feared, the people being on the watch for the flood. It is impossible here to fix the responsibility for the accident, further than that the dam is said to have been improperly constructed for the purpose for which it was intended. Adequate means for the escape of water in time of a flood were not provided.

During Jail Delivery.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 3.—Charley Cosh and George Duncan, confined in jail in this city on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury, succeeded in breaking jail here Saturday night, and have not yet been captured. They had pried up the floor of their cell and let themselves down to the first floor. When the deputy sheriff came in with their supper they knocked him down and escaped through the main entrance. The sheriff, the deputy and the police are in pursuit, but have not yet captured them.

Right Stopped by Police.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Tommy Ward, of Cincinnati, and Charles Wilson, the "English Kid," fought at the West End yesterday with five-ounce gloves to a finish, Queensberry rules, for a purse of $400. Twenty-two rounds were fought when the police put a stop to the sparring, and the referee declared the match a draw. The purse was divided.

Death by the Gas Route.

NEW YORK, March 3.—John Grisonone, of Hempstead, L. I., was found dead in his office Saturday morning at 47 Park street. He had committed suicide by means of illuminating gas. When found he had a rubber attachment from the gas-pipe in his mouth with the cock turned on.

Waters Subabiding at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., March 3.—The waters in the Ohio river at this place are subsiding. The highest mark was reached Saturday registering 56 feet 11 inches at the water works. Since then the fall has been quite rapid and all the railroads will soon be handling passengers and freight as usual.

RIOT AT A THEATER.

A Disgusted Audience Attempts to Mob the Would-be Actors.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.—A riot occurred in the Standard theater during the matinee performance yesterday, and a detail of police had to be hurried to the scene, and it took the blue-coats nearly an hour to clear the theater and the streets. The Standard is one of the so-called "popular price" theaters, and has been devoted to high-class vaudeville attractions. A Sunday matinee is a feature of the week.

A party of barn stormers in a play called "Zuna" was presented by the management to 3,000 people yesterday afternoon. The play had no merit, the people no talent, and before the curtain was up fifteen minutes the audience rose in their seats and began geying the actors and calling on the management to stop the performance. All sorts of missiles were thrown on the stage, and the din became so great that the curtain was rang down and an end put to the show.

Then the people began to clamor for their money. They gathered outside in front of the theater, and as the crowds on the streets joined the mob there were 5,000 people hooting and yelling in a few minutes. Ironical cheers were given for the management and the show. A break was made for the stage door, and the performers were panic stricken. About ten policemen arrived at this time and saved the actors. There was no performance last night, nor will there be any this week at the Standard.

Pittsburg's New Departure.

PITTSBURG, March 1.—At a special meeting of council Thursday night the right of way was granted to ten street railroad companies to build and operate. The franchise granted is as wide as a barn door and as deep as the sea, and covers almost every street in every direction from the heart of the city to the suburbs, amounting to some eighty miles of road in all. It is estimated the franchises are worth as a total $50,000,000 to $60,000,000. A peculiarity of the affair is the laxity of regulations, as any one of the roads is permitted to buy out any one or all of the other lines if it sees fit, parallel or no parallel.

The Champion Snake Story.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 1.—There is a famous spring on Mr. Stewart's farm, in Perry township, this county, and last week the waters became strangely discolored. This led to an investigation.
